

Heaven's Blend at _____

Press Release

On _____, the concert will start at _____. (Add any information about your event, meal & concert)

Known throughout the state of Maine, they have played as far away as Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Florida. (Hey, after all, this is Southern gospel). Part comedy, part music and all ministry, these four men take their music and their ministries very serious.

Through their lively music, they share the Love of God and sing about His care for people in every situation. With a unique talent, they move the audience as they touch hearts and minds with hope, encouragement and thanksgiving for God's faithfulness and goodness. Many times, they report, people are touched to the core and ministered to in unique areas of need that no one but God and the person knew anything about. Supernatural healing occurs as God touches hearts in a unique and personal way.

Music has a way of touching people where words fail. The music and singing of Heaven's Blend is no exception. They don't claim to have any special insight into people's needs, they just sing and minister from the heart and God does His thing. The results speak for themselves. For those looking for a fun and relaxing night out, a Heaven's Blend concert may be just what the doctor ordered.

The foursome is made up of Tom Rawley, senior pastor of the Waldoboro Word of Life Church, piano and vocals, Gary Leet, Pastor of the Lisbon Free Baptist Church, drums and vocals, Marcel Ward, harmonica and vocals, and Craig Tuck, bass guitar.

Come early and bring a friend. There is no charge, but a love offering is taken to defer the expenses. For more information, people can call Pastor Tom Rawley at 207-446-3288 or go to there facebook page at Heavens Blend.

(Add your information about the church, concert, meal etc. with times and directions.)